

School for Environment and Sustainability (SEAS)

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Strategic Plan | FY 2025

Strategic Plan Overview

From 2016-2021, the School for Environment and Sustainability (SEAS) engaged in a period of deep-rooted work, striving to weave diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI) throughout the fabric of our School. Guided by the University's renewed focus on DEI, and in alignment with our School's mission centering justice, we assessed our organizational policies, programming, teaching, research, and service. This period, also referred to as DEI 1.0 laid a significant foundation that served as a catalyst for the next iteration of justice work at SEAS. This current plan has been developed in response to extensive listening to members of our community coupled with an assessment of data from 1.0.

We acknowledge the immense amount of work yet to be done which will take a sustained commitment from all members of our community to incorporate DEI as a lens in all that we do and at all levels of the organization. This Year 2 plan is a snapshot of a much longer roadmap towards achieving substantive change that will evolve and deepen over the next several years. We honor the vision and leadership of our community members who paved the way for DEI 1.0, including countless students, staff, and faculty, both former and current, whose advocacy and committed actions to advance DEI in SEAS and beyond continues to inform the work that we seek to uphold.

University Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Charge and Goals

In the fall of 2015, the University's DEI charge resulted in a yearlong period of planning and data collection. Units across campus devised strategic goals and objectives to fulfill the vision set forth by the University President and the Board of Regents. The process resulted in the creation of a five-year diversity, equity, and inclusion strategic plan that launched in Fall 2016, along with the appointment of the university's inaugural Chief Diversity Officer; and the development of the Office of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, which oversees the implementation of the unit plans. As we move into the DEI 2.0 strategic planning, it will be further enhanced by the concurrent work of both the U-M culture journey process focused on building shared core values of integrity, respect, inclusion, equity, diversity, and innovation, and President Santa Ono's strategic visioning for the University. This process will build a shared future for the University, sharpening our impact and determining who we are, what we want to stand for, where we want to go, and what we aspire to achieve.

Our Goals

Diversity – We commit to increasing diversity, which is expressed in myriad forms, including race and ethnicity, gender and gender identity, sexual orientation, socio-economic status, language, culture, national origin, religious commitments, age, (dis)ability status, and political perspective.

Equity – We commit to working actively to challenge and respond to bias, harassment, and discrimination. We are committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and do not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, religion, height, weight, or veteran status.

Inclusion – We commit to pursuing deliberate efforts to ensure that our campus is a place where differences are welcomed, different perspectives are respectfully heard and where every individual feels a sense of belonging and inclusion. We know that by building a critical mass of diverse groups on campus and creating a vibrant climate of inclusiveness, we can more effectively leverage the resources of diversity to advance our collective capabilities.

We recognize that diversity, equity, and inclusion are distinct, yet interwoven goals and values that require unique attention and approaches and we cannot be the type of institution that we strive for without a strong focus on each of these areas. We cannot retain a truly diverse community, without an emphasis on equity and inclusion.

SEAS Rationale, Mission, & Vision

SEAS has a longstanding commitment to advancing justice within the context of environmental sustainability, leading as the first academic environmental justice program in the nation. At SEAS, we are at the forefront of building a more sustainable and just world for all by transforming the impact of higher education and reimagining the future. We are advancing action through innovation, research, education, and engagement in society, and developing leaders who are empowered to halt the climate crisis and create an environmentally sound future for generations to come. Our vision is a world without a global climate and environment crisis that is environmentally sound, sustainable, and just.

DEI is central to our mission to ensure that each member of our community has full opportunity to thrive in our environment, for we believe that diversity is key to individual and societal success, educational excellence, and the advancement of knowledge. By 2030, SEAS will accelerate breakthroughs to solve the global climate, biodiversity, and sustainability crisis that address inequities, are locally actionable and globally scalable, inspire hope, and catalyze collective action to change the trajectory of our future toward a healthy, sustainable and just world.

At SEAS, we commit to the following, outlined herein as People, Process, and Products:

- Coordinating and implementing practices that are aligned with our commitment to promoting broad diversity and to advancing equity and inclusion as core school priorities.
- Providing opportunities for all members of the community to learn and develop in ways that are in keeping with the school's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
- Developing and refining processes that seek to increase the diversity, broadly defined, of our students, staff, faculty.
- Establishing practices and policies that make visible, discourage, and restoratively respond to acts of discrimination, harassment, or personal abuse.
- Acting on our commitment to contribute to a just and sustainable society and to affirm the humanity of all people.

In service to our core values of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, during DEI 1.0 our community created two major initiatives: The Equity and Justice Initiative, which originated with insights from our Black student community about their experiences, and one on Decolonization, which also originated with students in their collaborations with indigenous partners. DEI 2.0 has been an opportunity to broaden and strengthen those commitments, while also attending to emergent DEI issues that have been signaled during our data collection and discussions for this strategic plan (these include ableism in environmentally oriented professional activities and on our properties, collaborative practice with vulnerable communities that is more attentive to social power, safety from sexual harassment and gender based discrimination, and intercultural communication and inclusive language skills). Through experiments with social process for DEI learning in our school we leverage our traditions of community based and field-based projects; we have used and will continue to develop a unique blend of cohort based curricular and co-curricular learning, a mix of science and practice, and a blended purview of research, teaching, and professional training for a workforce whose professional fields of environmental and sustainability work are emergent, and not yet well bounded.

Implementation Highlights and Planning Process Used

Planning Lead(s):

- Lauren Davis, Director of Diversity, Equity, and Community
- Rebecca Hardin, Faculty Director for Justice, Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion (JEDI)
- Vanesa Hernandez-Jackson, DEI Program Manager
- Jazmin Williams-Hudson, DEI Program Manager

Implementation Highlights and Planning Process Summary:

The DEI Office led the SEAS DEI 2.0 Strategic Planning process, with input from key partners. The planning team gathered input from functional areas of SEAS, including Human Resources, Development and Alumni Relations, Communications, Research and Instructional faculty and staff, the Student Center and with field and program leaders throughout the school to help inform the direction of the strategic objectives and action items developed. Survey data was also heavily utilized, including the DEI Climate reports, current student surveys, information from the 2020 open letter from the Black student body, evaluative feedback from previous DEI programming, coupled with the analysis from the DEI 1.0 Evaluation Report. During Year 1, we socialized the strategic plan and held a DEI 2.0 Launch Event in November 2023 to share the goals of our DEI 2.0 plan and reflect on our progress and challenges from DEI 1.0 as we move forward collectively.

We were able to implement activities that spanned across DEI lectures, curricular efforts, uplifting the impact of SEAS members advancing justice initiatives, and creating opportunities to come together in building community and a positive school culture. Year 2 of our plan builds on our progress from the initial launch, adapting our work based on ongoing feedback from relevant constituencies, and continues to be informed by our engagement with the broader community through in person and virtual forums, student feedback sessions, during staff, faculty, and student leader meetings, surveys, and utilizing generative visioning digital tools. Our DEI committee, composed of students, staff and faculty, has been an integral sounding board for many of our key DEI priorities and implementation. Additionally, we plan to take a more collaborative and co-created approach to our efforts to better meet the needs of our community, minimize silos, reduce counter programming, and build greater synergy in our programming as we often have interconnected goals across the work of our administrative units. Having support from the highest levels of leadership as well as from multiple areas within the school sets the tone that DEI is an integral part of how we want to operate within SEAS. Having collaborative partners also helps to establish that DEI is a part of the SEAS culture and demonstrates that our progress and success is school-wide and not siloed to one office.

A primary focus of this upcoming year is community building, by developing events and activities that provide space for meaningful dialogue, bringing together students, faculty, and staff, and strengthen their skills to facilitate high-stakes conversations and promote a culture of inclusivity, respect, empathy, and collaboration. The goal is to proactively explore challenging topics that impact how we engage as a community and have implications for our work as a field of environment and sustainability.

Adopting an intentional approach to be more strategic and focused, this plan has prioritized the scope of actions to ensure that we have the necessary resources, including human and financial, to adequately measure, evaluate, and sustain each of the objectives/action items over time. This includes a deeper analysis of our existing processes and procedures, acknowledging that inviting an inclusive and transparent process may often result in longer completion times. However, a more community informed set of processes and structures is being centered, as opposed to rapid outcomes that do not incorporate the diverse perspectives of our community.

Data and Analysis: Key Findings

Summary of Data, Key Findings, Themes and Recommendations:

Our dialogical research design has yielded a range of transcripts and artifacts that can undergird DEI 2.0 in meaningful ways that our community will recognize as touchstone conversations moving forward. This is important, as SEAS Administrative and Center leadership, in addition to central DEI leadership, have relied heavily in recent years on survey methods. To avoid research fatigue in our community, we have piloted consultative, qualitative methods for data collection in our planning process. Well suited to capturing the voices of all in our community, these have made clear several key findings. First, in pursuing DEI, embracing the stories of resilience and brilliance within the Black student community is essential. We must create a safe space with clear reporting systems and representation to address violations of our racial and gender-based harassment policies. By establishing a dedicated digital repository, we can help to ensure that students, staff, and faculty are aware of the resources available to them. We can curate events, open to all, that celebrate the interests of the Black and brown student body and must continue to focus on increasing the available student financial support to alleviate financial burdens. Our dedication can pave the way for a more inclusive, equitable, and transformative future. Second, DEI practitioners at SEAS have identified the need for actionable strategies and support to foster a more inclusive environment. We must provide tangible strategies and support to increase student, staff, and faculty comfort within the SEAS climate. Transparency, communication, respect, and relationship building are crucial elements to foster a stronger sense of community. SEAS core values should be embraced, and conflicts and gaps present opportunities for shared learning and collaboration.

The lack of representation among Black, brown, and Gen Z populations within the staff and faculty is an area of concern. While SEAS has recognized and built initiatives around expressions of advocacy from those from underrepresented communities in our school and field, we still need to focus more on resources and relationship building to expand these numbers and improve talent retention. DEI-centered leadership training and community engagement with, among others, BIPOC Environmental activists and organization leaders are essential to achieving our goals. The Promotion and Tenure process should prioritize DEI leadership and equity-focused teaching practices, address experiences in the classroom, and incorporate DEI reflection—which is not to say generic metrics, but some generative, rigorous self-reflexive summary of learning and work – into faculty evaluations. The data highlight the critical need for DEI learning and organic connections within SEAS. By creating a supportive environment where every person has the resources and opportunities to thrive, we can pave the way for a more equitable, inclusive, and transformative future at SEAS.

DEI 2.0 Year 2 Key Recommendations

- Focus on building a strong school culture, including the development of shared community values to guide us as a school and development of spaces for dialogue and community conversations
- More emphasis on enhancing accessibility across our students, staff, and faculty
- Offer tailored services and programming, including mentoring and advising for all students to better support the retention of our student body, with particular attention to issues that may disproportionately affect domestic historically underrepresented students and international students
- Identify additional funding opportunities for students
- Increase the diversity, broadly defined, of our staff and faculty by reviewing our recruitment and hiring processes, increasing the scope of our outreach and mitigating bias, with an emphasis on retention
- Emphasis on better aligning our policies and procedures to embed principles of equity and inclusion
- Offer feedback mechanisms to better understand the unique needs/experiences across a range of backgrounds and adjust our services accordingly
- Review our pay equity structures for our staff and faculty (HR Salary Equity Review)
- Increase incentives for the DEI efforts of our students, staff, and faculty
- Reassess and modify our current DEI engagement models to increase participation of SEAS faculty on DEI events, activities, and trainings
- Prioritize anti-colonial course curricula and pedagogies, to center equity and inclusion best practices in the classroom
- Establish enhanced evaluation and assessment metrics for our DEI efforts and provide updates to the SEAS community

Strategic Objectives, Measures of Success, and Action Plans*

Key Strategies & Constituencies*:

The DEI plan encompasses the students, staff, and faculty of SEAS and PitE. It is organized by a set of strategic objectives that further the university-wide goals of diversity, equity and inclusion and has been aggregated into three distal objectives determined by the University, which include:

- People: Recruit, Retain & Develop a Diverse Community
- Process: Create an Equitable and Inclusive Campus Climate
- Product: Support Innovative and Inclusive Teaching, Research, and Service

Each of these strategic objectives is accompanied by metrics that will be tracked over time, as well as descriptions of single and multiple year actions we will take to accomplish those objectives. For additional details on assignments, timelines, and accountabilities, see the Action Planning Table.

While some of our action items can be accomplished relatively easily each year, many of our goals are aspirational and seek to address deeply rooted institutional issues that will require sustained effort and time to see significant progress. We do not want to avoid identifying metrics that may be hard to affect or difficult to identify and will remain transparent about these measures, even if it takes time to see a difference. The metrics may also change over time, as priority strategies change.

All strategic objectives and related actions will be pursued in accordance with the law and University policy.*

PEOPLE (Recruit, Retain & Develop a Diverse Community)

Strategies and action items for People are designed to bolster and extend the work of all units by introducing effective programs and procedures aimed at recruiting, retaining, and supporting a diverse campus community. DEI-related recruitment and retention efforts across campus reflect the varied needs and goals of specific units and groups.

UNDERGRADUATE and GRADUATE STUDENTS

Strategic Objective 1: Recruit and retain a broadly diverse student body by providing resources and support for students, including those from historically underrepresented and minoritized communities to thrive academically and socially at SEAS.

Actions:

1. Continue to grow and evaluate the impact of the NextGen Scholars Program, which provides a strengths-based support to first-year graduate students at SEAS and a cohort experience.
2. Expand the diversity of the PhD program to support a more holistic recruitment and application review process. Be proactive in identifying and nominating admitted PhD applicants who might be eligible for the Rackham Merit Fellowship.
3. Strengthen advising and mentorship for students. Continue to emphasize the range of advising and mentorship support available in SEAS and beyond, to mitigate placing disproportionate efforts on a limited number of individuals.
4. Through the Black Community Empowerment Series, review the 2020 Black Student Body letter, evaluate what has been accomplished, and what may still be done and commit to an actionable plan, as appropriate, with schoolwide accountability and resources.
5. Partner with SEAS units to enhance accessibility for physical and invisible disabilities, utilizing principles of Universal Design, and make information about accessibility more visible on the SEAS website and in our communications.
6. Establish connections with students early on with a specialized approach to academic and professional support involving co-curricular and skill-based programming, and ongoing community-building activities establishing an inclusive and impactful learning community.
7. Partner with existing recognized student organizations and affinity-based programs that center the needs and experiences of historically underrepresented and minoritized students, staff, and faculty to build supportive networks and programming, open to all members of our community.

Metrics:

- Over the five-year period of DEI 2.0, increase the percentage of domestic matriculants coming from historically underrepresented backgrounds at SEAS/PitE from year to year.
- Increase in satisfaction rates with the available SEAS resources and support provided as noted on the Current Student Survey. Assess the data to compare satisfaction rates across identity groups.
- Establish a system for tracking and assessing retention rates, academic outcomes (GPA, graduation rates), and other relevant metrics, to evaluate outcomes with the goal of achieving parity across all collected identity areas.

Primary DEI Goal: Diversity, Inclusion

Strategic Objective 2: The SEAS Development Team will focus on fundraising efforts that support our DEI priorities, including increasing student financial assistance to help mitigate barriers to accessing an education, and highlight the SEAS DEI Funds that seek to enhance DEI programmatic activities and support for students.

Actions:

1. Continue to focus on student financial support as a top priority to better assist the students who attend SEAS, and to broadly diversify our community of learners.
2. Highlight the DEI Initiative Fund, DEI Fellowship, and Dr. Carroll B. Williams Fund for Black Excellence on our online giving page.
3. With the launch of the next university-wide capital campaign, embed our outlined DEI priorities within our SEAS fundraising efforts.
4. The Development Team will meet annually with internal stakeholders to discuss progress on garnering financial support for DEI fundraising priorities.

Metrics:

- Greater diversity and numbers of students from underrepresented backgrounds matriculating in SEAS.
- Overall increase in student funding support and in the priority DEI funds.
- Reduced loan debt amounts for our students while enrolled at SEAS.

Primary DEI Goal: Diversity, Equity

STAFF and FACULTY

Strategic Objective 3: Strengthen the recruitment, retention, and employee satisfaction for staff and faculty, and specifically from underrepresented groups in SEAS.

Actions:

1. Commit to increasing diversity by conducting a review of our current recruitment and hiring processes to establish clear, objective criteria that mitigates unlawful biases and centers equity at all stages of the process.
2. Continue offering Stay Interviews for new employees to discuss with their HR partner within the first three months of employment what is going well and what can be improved. Continue to offer exit interviews to better understand trends and potential areas for improvement.
3. Conduct our annual Staff Salary Equity Review to ensure that all staff salaries are within a 10% range of relevant medians and averages. This review will include data from various schools and colleges across our campus.
4. Utilize existing data to examine the turnover rate of staff and faculty across a range of identities and share with SEAS leadership in an annual DEI report.
5. Develop a program to enhance the skills of SEAS professionals and leaders, with the goal of boosting employee retention of talented individuals and fostering a thriving culture for staff, faculty, and students.
6. Utilize the feedback data from staff and faculty surveys and other mechanisms to continue to make enhancements within SEAS.

7. Continue leading the Staff Advisory Committee as an opportunity to increase the channels for staff at all levels to share feedback and have their voices represented in key directions and decision making at SEAS.
8. Review and develop initiatives to improve the performance evaluation program for SEAS staff. Create a task force that includes a broadly diverse representation of SEAS staff.
9. Consult with the U-M ADVANCE Program to explore opportunities for increasing diversity, broadly defined, in the faculty recruitment and hiring processes at SEAS.

Metrics:

- Annual DEI reporting that indicates equity metrics improved over the five-year DEI 2.0 period.
- Lower turnover rate for our underrepresented and minoritized staff and faculty over the five-year DEI 2.0 period. Aim for equitable retention rates and career advancement opportunities for employees from all backgrounds and at all levels of the organization.
- Higher satisfaction rates for all staff and faculty on the Climate Surveys (with 2021 as a baseline) and reduced satisfaction gaps between underrepresented staff/faculty groups and the staff/faculty population generally.
- Development of a comprehensive curriculum that covers essential leadership competencies, such as communication, decision-making, conflict resolution, and strategic thinking.

Primary DEI Goal: Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

Strategic Objective 4: Improve career advancement opportunities for SEAS staff and faculty.

Actions:

1. Continue to offer the Professional Development and Tuition Support programs to provide support to staff to increase the effectiveness of their job performance, as well as to encourage employees to obtain skills, knowledge, and abilities, which may improve their opportunities for career advancement.
2. Implement modifications to the current performance management process to incorporate a greater focus on career planning and how various professional development goals support those plans.
3. Conduct a gap analysis for SEAS, reviewing what skills, capacities, and roles that we currently have, and then determining what skills, capacities, and roles that we need to support the future development of the school. Determine and gather appropriate metrics upon completion of the initial analysis.
4. Brainstorm ideas for a SEAS mentoring program, incorporating cross-training, mentorship relationships, and professional development opportunities.

Metrics:

- Consistent or increased usage by SEAS staff of the Professional Development and Tuition funding support.
- Adherence to the new performance management process.
- Implementation of a workforce plan that is data informed based on the findings from the gap analysis.

Primary DEI Goal: Equity, Inclusion

PROCESS (Create an Equitable and Inclusive Campus Climate)

Strategies and action items for Process are designed to support and strengthen the development of policies, procedures, and practices that create an inclusive and equitable campus climate and encourage a culture of belonging in which every member of our community can grow and thrive.

ALL CONSTITUENCIES

Strategic Objective 1: Uphold a school culture and climate that is collaborative, dismantles silos and cultivates a stronger sense of belonging and inclusion for students, staff, and faculty.

Actions:

1. Design a series of interactive community sessions about the newly established SEAS values to develop definitions, accountability systems to uphold these values, and methods to encourage buy-in.
2. Use multiple methods, including surveys, listening sessions and focus groups to engage SEAS students, staff, and faculty, including affinity groups and those within the community who are members of historically marginalized populations, to ensure their recommendations are considered in future programming and priority setting.
3. Conduct a bi-annual Climate Survey for students, staff, and faculty.
4. Execute events through the Community Engagement Committee to support in creating intentional engagement opportunities that help to build connections across students, staff, and faculty in a hybrid environment.
5. Develop the Collective Impact Initiative, aimed at uniting students, faculty, and staff in meaningful dialogue to build community connections, strengthen skills to participate in and facilitate high stakes conversations and promote a culture of inclusivity, respect, empathy, and collaboration, while also offering opportunities for meaningful action.

Metrics:

- An increase in climate survey scores across categories as established by the baseline 2021 Climate data. Eventual parity in climate study data among identity areas by 2028.

Primary DEI Goal: Equity, Inclusion

Strategic Objective 2: Institutionalize mechanisms for incentivizing and honoring contributions to advancing DEI efforts at SEAS and beyond.

Actions:

1. Continue the DEI professional development requirement for faculty and assessing for JEDI contributions on the Faculty Annual Review. Refine and clarify what activities align with the P.D. requirement.
2. Review our current processes for annual reporting around DEI efforts for faculty for refinement and enhanced support in meeting those goals.
3. Continue to offer the DEI Champion Award, with the newly revised rubric. Expand the award to include staff and faculty recipients.
4. Explore potential opportunities for incentivizing key DEI volunteer roles.

Metrics:

- Refined annual reporting processes that demonstrate deeper engagement and reflection in relation to DEI, with clear guidelines for how the reporting is assessed.
- Conduct merit-based annual reviews for staff and faculty.
- Establishment of new avenues for rewarding demonstrated DEI contributions in the areas of programming, scholarship, teaching, or service.

Primary DEI Goal: Equity

Strategic Objective 3: Improve our internal support processes for grievances, unlawful biases, and misconduct, with an emphasis on prevention, restorative approaches, and conflict resolution, while keeping in alignment with existing central University reporting mechanisms and policies.

Actions:

1. Update the current SEAS student grievance process based on feedback from the Grievance Committee.
2. Clarify internal and external pathways for reporting, conflict resolution, and key contacts through creating a clear resource that provides examples, and both confidential and non-confidential resource options.
3. Collaborate with University partners to provide the relevant training options to support students, staff, and faculty development in these areas (SAPAC, ECRT, PEAR, Organizational Learning, etc.).

4. Explore preventative measures that focus on enhancing school culture/climate and restorative approaches through the process of rolling out the SEAS values.

Metrics:

- Ensure that 100% of all bias incidents that are reported through internal SEAS processes are appropriately followed up upon and directed to the appropriate contact/resource(s) as applicable.
- Increased offerings and participation in activities and training that promote a safe and healthy school culture and climate.

Primary DEI Goal: Equity, Inclusion

Strategic Objective 4: Transparently communicate on the progress and barriers related to our DEI goals.

Actions:

1. Utilize multiple platforms to share DEI progress, updates, and information, including the SEAS website, newsletters, and other communication channels.
2. Post the composition/demographic data of our SEAS students, staff, and faculty on our website to increase transparency about the makeup of our community including changes in such composition over time. Integrate findings into annual equity reports, once established.
3. Consult with the Center for Education Design, Evaluation, and Research (CEDER) to develop a plan to evaluate our SEAS DEI strategic efforts and report our findings with the SEAS community.
4. Develop an annual equity report and determine how that aligns with the metrics we are tracking for central campus reporting.

Metrics:

- DEI content is embedded into SEAS communications.
- Strengthened metrics and outcomes to assess impact of our DEI efforts over time.

Primary DEI Goal: Diversity, Equity, Inclusion

Strategic Objective 5: Highlight student, staff, faculty, and alumni stories throughout the year and stories related to inclusion, equity, and justice in an authentic way.

Actions:

1. Build collaborations with students, influencers, and the SEAS community to increase DEI messaging that is authentic and genuine.

2. Spotlight the work of, among others, our BIPOC students, their research, and efforts within their respective fields and community initiatives.

Metrics:

- More stories highlighted throughout the year.
- Establishment of a fund that allows for students to share their stories, while mitigating the barrier of financial concerns through compensation for social media takeovers and other storytelling.

Primary DEI Goal: Equity, Inclusion

UNDERGRADUATE and GRADUATE STUDENTS

Strategic Objective 6: Create opportunities for more meaningful engagement for students to learn about issues of equity and justice and connect that knowledge to environmental and sustainability education, beyond performative DEI.

Actions:

1. Host DEI workshops and lectures addressing social/environmental issues, with a focus on issues of justice/injustice and collective action, featuring community activists, organization leaders, and SEAS community members, with funding to support speaker involvement.
2. Provide sponsorship support for SEAS community-led DEI programming and activities.
3. Highlight University DEI opportunities and external organizations with ways to get involved, resources, and training.
4. Continue to build on our cross-campus and external relationships with DEI units that can expand our interprofessional connections, knowledge sharing, and DEI programming amongst our community.

Metrics:

- Development of DEI content and programming that will be delivered during the school year.
- More co-created DEI learning opportunities with partners both in SEAS and externally.
- Survey and evaluation measures are deployed for DEI professional development offerings, to evolve based on participant feedback.

Primary DEI Goal: Diversity, Equity, Inclusion

STAFF and Faculty

Strategic Objective 7: Provide DEI professional development opportunities for SEAS staff and faculty that is co-created and promotes shared knowledge and learning, with more asynchronous opportunities to engage in DEI learning.

Actions:

1. Utilize SEAS newsletters to include a calendar of available DEI training, both within SEAS and externally.
2. Centralize a repository of DEI resources.
3. Provide DEI aligned and dynamic multimedia Case Studies.
4. Work with SEAS leadership to explore the option of having a DEI requirement for staff that is reflected in a more elevated way in the annual review process.
5. Explore a process to consult with SEAS units to outline their DEI goals and how they aspire to infuse it into their work (for individuals and teams).

Metrics:

- Expanded DEI professional development content publicized.
- Creation of a DEI resource repository that sees increased utilization over time.
- More holistic support opportunities for DEI goal setting for staff and faculty.
- Increased number of staff and faculty participating in U-M or SEAS DEI courses or training activities.

Primary DEI Goal: Equity, Inclusion

PRODUCTS (Support Innovative and Inclusive Teaching, Research, and Service)

Strategies and action items for Products integrate DEI solutions into our educational program offerings and teaching methodology, and ensure scholarly research on diversity, equity and inclusion, and the scholars who produce it, are valued and supported.

ALL CONSTITUENCIES

Strategic Objective 1: Develop curricular enhancements that will make SEAS courses more inclusive, and equity focused.

Actions:

1. Work with the DEI Committee to build a more sustainable infrastructure for our anti-colonial efforts, informed by the evaluative feedback from the Decolonizing SEAS Initiative and other key partners.

2. Provide support to Uproot and their curricular and co-curricular efforts focused on transforming environmental education.
3. Utilize responses from the newly implemented question on student course evaluations about fostering an equitable learning environment to adjust courses as needed, and to better support faculty development in this area.
4. The DEI Team will work in collaboration with the SEAS Faculty Liaison for Inclusive Teaching and CRLT to create a mechanism(s) to share and discuss relevant content and best practices on inclusive teaching back to the faculty.
5. Continue recording course lectures to help with learning retention and making course content accessible remotely.
6. Offer the new SEAS course, History of DEI at SEAS aimed at building concrete skills in DEI concepts and tools, cultural and historical research, inclusive design, and authentic evaluation of tools for organizational change.

Metrics:

- Increased number of faculty utilizing CRLT and/or internal and external facilitators for Midterm Student Feedback, Course Observations, and other consultative services.
- An increase or consistently strong scores about faculty fostering an equitable learning environment, as indicated on course evaluations, with Winter 2023 as the baseline.

Primary DEI Goal: Equity, Inclusion

Strategic Objective 2: Leverage online and digital learning opportunities to reach learners that will strengthen, grow, and further diversify our academic programs.

Actions:

1. Make the recordings of lectures by faculty and guest lecturers, including alumni available for greater external and student recruiting impact using the SEAS Digital Learning Hub.
2. Draw on virtual tools such as Gala and extended reality that can enhance residential learning.
3. Create Bootcamps, MOOCs, (stackable) online certificates/degrees, Mastertrack certificates, combining online and residential experiences focused on specific themes and developing skills, to support professional lifelong learning. Work in partnership with the DEI Office and JEDI Director to ensure that principles of DEI are integrated throughout, and as our online learning products near completion, define an effective marketing strategy to reach these new audiences.
4. With support from the Rackham Faculty Allies grant, use the Gala platform to co-create, review, and expand on case studies (i.e., Acknowledging the History of Anti-Black Racism in Environmental Sciences, Environmentalism for All: Ableism in our Field; Decolonizing University Land Management etc.) in both synchronous and asynchronous ways to connect students, faculty, staff, and community partners in addressing key justice issues within SEAS and the profession.

Metrics:

- Greater utilization of the SEAS Digital Learning Hub and its resources.
- Creation of learning opportunities, such as lunch and learns to showcase how our digital tools have been utilized to address key justice issues and build community across students, staff, and faculty.

Primary DEI Goal: Diversity, Equity, Inclusion

Strategic Objective 3: Provide resources and support for faculty and other SEAS members to contribute to a more inclusive and equitable environment in the classroom and in SEAS through participation in professional development opportunities, shared learning, peer observations and feedback, and personal reflection. Generate research that has real-world impact by centering justice, diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Actions:

1. Include time at the faculty meetings for spotlights or flash talks to facilitate the sharing of best practices for teaching, advising, and research that infuses DEI, including lessons learned.
2. Provide workshops for faculty advisors focusing on DEI, accessibility, and student mental health to increase awareness and foster continuous learning to better understand the diverse backgrounds and unique perspectives of their students and to offer supportive, inclusive, and personalized guidance.
3. Once developed, utilize the centralized DEI repository to highlight resources that focus on amplifying broadly diverse voices in the classroom/field work sites, equity focused teaching, leadership and research, and other emerging topics and best practices.

Metrics:

- Integration of “flash talks” and DEI training into the faculty meetings.
- Based on analytic data, see an increase in users on the centralized DEI resource page.

Primary DEI Goal: Equity, Inclusion

Goal-related Metrics – University and SEAS Measures Tracked Over Time

Below are a few measures which, as they are tracked across time, will demonstrate the impact of our strategies and actions on the three goals (people, process, products). Some of this data is provided by central administration in our annual DEI metrics report, including demographic composition data, graduation and enrollment data for students, as well as tenure status for faculty, with additional data being supplemented by SEAS.

Undergraduate Students

Demographic Composition:

- Headcount
- Race/ethnicity
- Sex

Graduation Rates:

- 4-Year
- 6-Year

Enrollment:

- Entry status (new, continuing)
- Student class level (freshman, sophomore, junior, senior)

Climate Survey Indicators (sample indicators listed below):

- Satisfaction with overall U-M climate/environment
- Semantic aspects of the general climate of U-M campus overall
- Semantic aspects of the DEI climate at U-M campus overall
- Feeling valued at U-M campus overall
- Feeling of belongingness at U-M campus overall
- Assessment of U-M institutional commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion
- Perceptions of equal opportunity for success at U-M campus overall
- Feeling able to perform up to full potential at U-M campus overall
- Feelings of academic growth at U-M campus overall

Plans for Supporting, Tracking and Updating the Strategic Plan

Progress Review Process and Accountability

The SEAS DEI Leads (Lauren Davis, Director of Diversity, Equity, and Community; Vanesa Hernandez-Jackson, DEI Program Manager, Jazmin Williams-Hudson, DEI Program Manager, and Rebecca Hardin, Justice, Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion Faculty Director) will serve as the key contacts for stewardship of the strategic plan. The DEI Leads work in collaboration with SEAS leadership and the DEI Committee in tracking and supporting the plan implementation.

There will be a biannual review of the plan conducted with all relevant constituencies to gather feedback and seek additional ideas to be implemented throughout the year. A midyear status report and an end of year report will be presented to the Dean's Council. Updates will also be shared with the broader SEAS community for increased transparency and status of our progress through existing channels of communication, including our newsletters, emails, during relevant meetings, and posting to our website. We will seek guidance from our students, staff, and faculty about the best avenues and frequency for this communication.

The success of our plan is directly connected to the shared commitment and collective efforts of our entire SEAS community, so it is important that we continue to socialize our DEI plan each fall to orient students, staff, and faculty to our renewed priorities. As the DEI plan is intended to be iterative, we will continue to be nimble in adjusting as needed when urgent or evolving priorities arise that may cause us to pivot to better support the needs of our community members.
